In the previous financial year, Genumark took measures to prevent and mitigate the risk of forced labor and child labor at all stages of production and import.

Below are specific steps and initiatives undertaken:

Conducting Internal Risk Assessment:

The company has implemented processes to identify and assess potential adverse impacts associated with forced labor and child labor.

Due Diligence Policies and Processes:

Genumark currently has implemented policies and due diligence processes related to forced labor and child labor.

Supplier Requirements:

Genumark requires suppliers to have in place policies and procedures for identifying and prohibiting the use of forced labour and/or child labour in their activities and supply chains.

Standards, Codes, and Compliance:

Genumark has a supplier code of conduct that all current and new suppliers are required to sign on an annual basis.

Supplier Auditing and Monitoring:

Genumark requires supplier partners to have clear third-party audit records and on occasion has implemented Workplace Conditions Assessment (WCA) audit, performed by Intertek. When applicable, Genumark will select various factories in our supply chain to undergo such audits.

Engagement with Supply Chain Partners:

Genumark has implemented a preferred supplier program both independently and in conjunction with the Legacy Buying Group. The group's preferred suppliers consist of approximately 75 top industry suppliers in our major product categories. Genumark monitors and manages the preferred supplier program in accordance with their status and mandate as an ISO 9001:2015 certified company. The company requires suppliers to maintain quality assurance on an ongoing basis through the management of the supplier program.

9. Entity Structure and Activities

Genumark is a distributor of promotional merchandise, uniforms and corporate apparel that is 100% owned by Menli Enterprises Inc, which is owned by the Mark Freed Family Trust. Genumark does not manufacture any of the products and merchandise, the company relies on a robust supply chain to execute merchandise projects. Most of the decoration is completed domestically in Canada and the United States, while the majority of the blank inventory carried by our import partners (i.e. raw material manufacturing) is manufactured overseas.
