Modern Slavery Act Report for KB Components Canada Inc.

KB Components Canada Inc. is a Canadian organization with three locations in the Windsor, Ontario, Canada region. The business is a manufacturing organization which supplies automotive components to various Customers in North America.

The Customers working with KB Components Canada are well established organizations in countries with legislation to prevent activities such as slave labour and child labour.

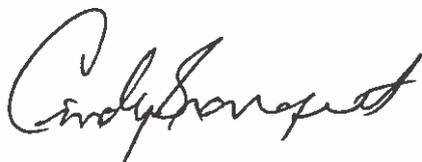

At this time, the Company has not completed a robust risk assessment process in regard to the Modern Slavery Act.

To the best of our knowledge, we are not aware of risks regarding forced labour, since all operations and suppliers are in Canada, USA, Europe and China. However, our investigation into this matter has been minimal at this time.

The Company will continue to review any potential risks and take action should a new Customer in a new country be part of our business portfolio. We rely heavily on legislation which exists to stop any potential risk in this area.

Regards,
