1. Our Structure, Operations and Supply Chains

Ucore performs one of the activities covered by section 9 of the Act and is an “entity”, as such term is defined in section 2 of the Act. Ucore is governed by the Business Corporations Act (Alberta) and its registered address is located at 210 Waterfront Drive, Suite 106, Bedford, Nova Scotia, B4A 0H3.

Ucore specializes in rare earth element (“REE”) resources, extraction, beneficiation and separation technologies. Our primary focus is on developing advanced technology for separating rare and critical metals, particularly through our patent-pending RapidSX™ separation technology platform. This technology aims to enhance efficiency, reduce costs, and provide environmentally friendly solutions for REE separation.

Ucore is progressing the development of its Strategic Metals Complex (“SMC”) in Alexandria, Louisiana. Situated within the England Airpark, this 80,800-square-foot facility is intended to serve as a pivotal hub for rare earth element separation and oxide production, contributing to the establishment of a secure North American supply chain for critical materials. Ucore also has a significant stake in the Bokan-Dotson Ridge Rare Earth Element Project in Alaska, which is a mineral exploration and development property.

The Reporting Entity employs approximately 6 people in Canada.

2. The Steps We Have Taken During the Reporting Period to Prevent and Reduce the Risk of Forced Labour and Child Labour

During the Reporting Period, we did not engage in new discussions with our suppliers regarding the issue of forced labour or child labour because our supplier base did not change from the prior year. Based on our existing knowledge, prior discussions with our suppliers in previous years, and the nature of the products and services procured, we assessed that the risk of forced labour or child labour within our supply chain continues to be low. As such, no additional steps were taken during the period to prevent or reduce the risk of forced or child labour in our supply chain.

3. Policies, Due Diligence and Controls

During the Reporting Period, we did not have policies regarding forced labour, child labour or human rights in general. We had not developed due diligence processes or controls in regards to these topics.

Nonetheless, as our business develops and our operations and supplier base expand, we aim to develop formal policies to address these issues and ensure that any instances of forced labour or child labour within our operations and supply chain can be identified and appropriately addressed.

4. Risk Assessment Methodology and Results of Assessment

During the Reporting Period, we did not make any assessment of the potential risk related to forced labour and child labour in our operations and supply chains.

5. Risks of Forced Labour and Child Labour in our Operations and Supply Chains

To our knowledge, during the Reporting Period, we did not identify risks of forced labour and/or child labour in our operations and supply chains. Our risk assessment process is currently nonexistent. As our business evolves, we will continue to consider and monitor the merits of establishing a compliance framework to address these issues in a future reporting period.

6. Remedial Action Taken during the Reporting Period

No, we did not take any remediation measures during the Reporting Period.

7. Our remediation processes

Since we have no compliance program addressing specifically the issue of forced labour and child labour in our operations and supply chains, we have currently no remediation process in place to deal with this issue.

8. Remediation actions for the loss of income to the most vulnerable families that results from any measure taken to eliminate forced labour and child labour from our operations and supply chains

No, we have not taken any remediation measures.

9. Our training

During the Reporting Period, we did not have any director, officer or staff training in place dealing with forced labour and child labour in our operations and supply chains.

10. Assessing our effectiveness

No assessment of our effectiveness to prevent and reduce the occurrence of forced labour and child labour in our operations and supply chains was conducted. Until we have put in place a compliance program to address this issue, we are not contemplating doing so.
