Uline Canada Corp. (Uline) is committed to upholding our responsibilities under Canada's Fighting Against Forced Labour and Child Labour in Supply Chains Act; or Bill S-211.

To help ensure the products we distribute are manufactured and delivered with high ethical standards, Uline takes proactive measures to enhance transparency and enforce strict standards for our suppliers. These measures include but are not limited to:

Supply Chain Due Diligence: Uline requires that suppliers evaluate their adherence to labor standards. This includes confirmation from our vendors that supplied products do not contain any components or material made using forced, child or prisoner labor. Uline does not tolerate any forced or involuntary labor either directly or indirectly by any of our suppliers. Uline visits vendors and observes their operations as needed.

Supplier Code of Ethics: Uline's Supplier Code of Ethics includes key areas of ethical sourcing, including human trafficking, slavery and forced labor; health and safety; conflict materials; anti-bribery; and environmental. All suppliers are expected to comply with the Supplier Code of Ethics when doing business with Uline.

Transparency and Reporting: Uline provides a report to Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) regarding the prevention of forced labor in our supply chains and reporting.

Continuous Improvement: Uline collaborates with industry peers, business associations, and other stakeholders to share best practices and collectively address challenges related to forced labor.
